Tamara Eberle, Founder
Managing Partner

Over the last 15 years Tamara has worked in both the not-for-profit and for-profit sectors in Vancouver and Toronto. Along with a degree in Sociology, she has extensive formal training and practical experience in advanced facilitation and group leadership. Her strengths also include community and organizational development; project management; and sponsor and corporate relations.

In addition to founding and operating Track, Tamara is the co-founder and National Project Development Director of a multi-award winning fundraising project to alleviate hunger, and is the Director of Strategic Development for a large, national charitable association. She has experience serving on community boards of directors, and is a mentor for youth training to be facilitative leaders.
